

A monumental task

1.

5.

6.

2.

4.

Photos by MCSN Dominique Watts

1. In an effort to execute the process of receiving the ship's mail, Postal Clerk 2nd Class (SW/AW) Marlondos Fields brings bags of mail from the hangar bay to the post office, Oct 2.
 2. Postal Clerk 3rd Class (SW) Justin Richards begins to sort mail by cutting open each bag received by the post office staff, Oct 2.
 3. Postal Clerk Seaman James Wheatley labels each package with the correct division, department and date as they come in to the post office, Oct 2.
 4. Postal Clerk 1st Class (SW/AW) Benjamin Anderson unloads mail in the ship's post office, Oct 2.
 5. Postal Clerk 2nd Class Marolyn Bernard begins to read each labeled package before entering it's information in a log book in the ship's post office.
 6. Postal Clerk 2nd Class Marolyn Bernard notes delivery conformation in one of the post office's log books, Oct. 2.
- Background: The passage way outside of the ship's pot office fills up with crewmembers' mail as it is received by S-12 division personnel.

